“Invigorating Summit County’s & Utah’s musical environment by creating exciting and unique Learning and Performance Opportunities for Today’s & Tomorrow’s Musicians!”

Park City and Summit County have been long known for excellence in sports and out of door activities. More recently, cultural and arts events have been flooding our community with exciting music, art, and film festivals. In its continuing efforts to add to this cultural scene, the Utah Music Festival and the Park City School of Music will be launching a community-wide, youth and adult Orchestra and Choir.

The newly-formed Park City/Summit County Youth Orchestra & Choir will be open to all musicians from the fifth grade through adult amateurs. There will be two divisions of ensembles featuring less and more experienced players. Smaller string, woodwind, brass, and choral chamber music ensembles will also be formed as the interest grows.

Ten to fifteen free public concerts will be offered in the Park City and Summit County schools from September through June. Students will be coached by and perform with professional teachers, performers, and conductors from area schools, the University of Utah, BYU, the Utah Symphony & Opera, and visiting guest artists from around the nation. Music repertoire will span the centuries from the Baroque and Classical to the Romantic, Popular, and Jazz eras. Concerts will be televised to local audiences and recorded for the participants’ benefit.

Along with the tremendous music programs available in Park City and Summit County private and public schools, this new effort will seek to give motivated students and amateurs an additional musical outlet for their talents and enthusiasm. Just as our large variety of local skiers have an opportunity to join a ski team to progress further in their skills and enjoyment of skiing, local musicians will be able to focus more on developing their talents.

Weekly rehearsals will take place in convenient Park City and Summit County locations and a modest fee of $250 per semester will be charged for music, venue rentals, and professional coaches and conductors. A higher level of participation will allow for lower fees. Scholarships will be available on a financial need basis.
